

Quito | A Capital City High In The Andes With Its Markets

The Ecuadorian capital lies dramatically between the beautiful mountains of the Andes. Experience the relaxed culture of the locals, their lively markets and the delicious food.

Day - 2 Quito

QUITO: CITYTOUR & COOKING CLASS (B, L)

In the morning, explore the historic city of Quito, which was declared as a World Heritage Site by the UNESCO in 1978. First, visit the Basilica del Voto Nacional, where you climb the tall church tower and enjoy fantastic views of the old town. Then, get to know the Plaza Grande and the churches La Compañía and San Francisco. After this sightseeing tour, a culinary experience begins for you. Visit a typical city market, where you get many exotic fruits and buy the ingredients for the subsequent Cooking Class. At the small restaurant Altamira, you learn a lot about Ecuadorian dishes and prepare your own lunch. Buen provecho! Strengthened then drive in the afternoon to the equatorial monument "Mitad del Mundo" where you are simultaneously on the northern and southern Hemisphere! If you still have enough energy in the evening, we recommend an independent visit to a salsa bar where the locals prove their skills.
