BUENOS AIRES: NORTHERN CITYTOUR & COOKING CLASS (B, D)

Recoleta – without doubt it is the city's most elite neighborhood. Its cemetery is one of the most famous in the world and the body of the celebrity Evita Peron rests here. The tombs, built in different artistic and architectural styles tell the story of the city and the country. At the entrance of the cemetery is located Our Lady of Pilar, a colonial church of the eighteenth century. The Alvear Avenue has the most beautiful residents and hotels in the city, as numerous art galleries as well. The Alvear Hotel emerged as the most distinguished, traditional and luxurious hotel in the country. The Carlos Pellegrini Square has its name after a president of the late nineteenth century and creator of the Jockey Club. Embassies of France and Brazil are located at this place in ex mansions of well-known families in the city. The evening is reserved for your exclusive cooking class. This unique dinner party's concept is to teach non Argentinian people the fundamentals of what being an Argentine is all about, whilst simply having fun. Learn how to create your own empanada using the traditional 'repulge' technique, enjoy a typical Argentine "picada", learn how to cook steaks "Argentinian style", let the guides teach you the best parts of our culture and, for dessert, make your own "alfajores". Finally, learn about the history and etiquette of "mate", Argentina's national pastime and prepare it yourself.
